FIRST TIME JOBSEEKER
What is a First Time Jobseekers Assistance Act (RA 11261)?	The First-Time Jobseekers Act was signed into law on April 10, 2019 by former President Rodrigo Duterte. This legislation aims to reduce unemployment by removing financial barriers for first-time jobseekers. It waives the fees for government-issued documents required for employment.
Who Benefits?	Jobseekers/Applicants which includes recent graduates and those entering the workforce for the first time
Waiver of Fees and Charges	All government agencies, including GOCCs, LGUs and government hospitals, must waive fees for first-time jobseekers for the following documents: - Police Clearance - NBI Clearance - Barangay Clearance - Medical certificate from a public hospital (excluding laboratory tests) - Birth Certificate - Marriage Certificate - Transcript of academic records from state colleges and universities - Tax Identification Number (TIN) - Unified Multi-purpose ID (UMID) Card - Other required government-issued documents

Eligibility Criteria	• Be a Filipino Citizen • Be a first-time jobseeker • Be actively seeking employment • Have been a resident of the barangay issuing the certification for at least six months *This certification is valid for one year from the date of issuance
One Time Benefit	The waiver can only be availed ONCE This means the benefits apply only to the first set of documents obtained
Exception	The Act DOES NOT cover fees for: ✚ Professional Licensure examinations ✚ Philippine passport applications ✚ Document authentication by the Department of Foreign Affairs ✚ Career Service Examination ✚ Driver's License application
Checklist of Requirements:	Where to secure:
